

Kerasan presents a collection of new series and products for 2025, featuring a range of elements that blend various styles and moods, all defined by the company's craftsmanship and quality.

From the industrial character of The New Yorker to the minimalist lines of Oke-Hako, to the technological innovation of the vortex flush applied to the close-coupled toilet, each collection explores in its own way the art of furnishing the bathroom area.

The absolute protagonists are design and innovation, attention to quality and the unmistakable production skill of Kerasan, which is capable of creating fascinating and functional elements that make the difference.
